VALL BROTHERS FREED OF CHARGE OF JEWEL THEFT

Watchman Unworthy of Belief, Judge Says-Mrs. Hutt in Court.

Flord and Roswell Vall, the young tockbrokers arrested Tuesday on charge of stealing $1,000 worth of jewelry from Mrs. Eda Hutt of No. see West End Avenue last April, were discharged by Magistrate House in the West Side Police Court to-day

The Court said that there was no evidence to associate effher of them with the crime charged, but that the policemen were justified in making one telephoned to Detective Martin Sheridan a wek ago and told him that John Bohan, a private watchman living at No. 339 West Seventieth Bohan's story was that Floyd Vail, who was visiting Mrs. Hutt, took the jewelry from her room and passed it through a window to his brother and that they pawned it later downtown. Sheridan reported to Inspector Fauret, who turned the pass over to Dulton and other detectives with instructions to watch the Valls.

Two detectives approached the Valls last Tuesday evening, and the brothers, according to the sleuths, started to run away. The arest was made immediately, although the case was not ready for an arrest.

Bohan, the watchman, went on the stand and told a confused and disconnected story in which he accused the detectives of using him in a "frame-up." Magistrate House, after crem-summing Bohan, said:

"This man is unworthy of belief. I

"For some reason this man Bohan purpassed the detective that he had seed a crime committed and while I am sorry for the young men. I cannot say that there was any fault on the part of the police."

Mrs. Hutt was in court. She said she never had any suspicion against either of the Valls and was deeply distressed over their arrest.
